Haverford Avenue to Be Done Wednesday

Necessity of Laying a Base
Slightly Prolongs Work.

AIDS 19 FAMILY HEADS

The repaving of Haverford Avenue, begun last week, will be completed by next Wednesday, according to an estimate by George B. Suplee, Superintendent of Public Works, at the meeting of Council on Monday night.

Due to the discovery that the street as originally paved had no base, and since this is required in order to comply with the State's specifications, the work is taking slightly longer than was originally anticipated.

The work is being done at this time, Robert F. Wood, chairman of the Highway and Sewer Committee of Council, pointed out, because half the cost of the improvement is being borne by the county and the County Commissioners having stipulated that the work must be completed within the calendar year. "The surface of the road was badly cracked," Mr. Wood said, "and we were afraid it wouldn't last through the winter. The resurfacing would have been done this year anyway, had it not been necessary to curtail the highway department budget in order to reduce the tax rate. If the work was put off till spring the cost to the Borough would have been twice as much," he added.

Dr. MacKenzie to Speak

Mrs. Thaddeus L. Bolton, of Wayne Avenue, will entertain the members of the Narberth Garden Club at luncheon today (Friday). At the meeting which follows Dr. Marion MacKenzie, former head of the Department of Biology of Temple University, will be the speaker. Her topic will be "The Kew Gardens." Mrs. Ernest Drew is in charge of the meeting.

Narberth Players Set for Premiere in "Bilked," Mystery Play, at Elm Hall Tonight

Celebrities Expected to Attend
"First Night" of New Organization.

TO AWARD NAME PRIZE

All is not yet told; that will occur tonight from 8:15 on. But some can now be told—and that is that the cast of characters of "Bilked," the mystery play to be given at Elm Hall tonight (Friday), comprises names of note and importance in our town, besides the additional attraction of having been written by a near-neighbor, Roland G. E. Ullman, of the Swarthmore Players.

One of the principal roles, also, will be taken by a guest artist Swarthmore Player, one of the Hedgerow Players, noted for their fine performances in Rose Valley. He will play the role of VanArmand, attorney for the defense, while Bernard F. Keenan, of Narberth, will be the ruthless District Attorney. Kathleen McConnell, well-known to Narberth play-goers for her splendid portrayals in many town attractions given in the past, will take the part of the accused.

A very long cast of characters includes the names of other popular citizens, Arthur Cooke, Elmer Lane, Walter Case, John, Ed and Alex Purring, J. D. Sutherland, Harvey Keim, Ruth Nash, W. H. Muller, Jere Gorman, J. B. Wooley, Grace Harris, R. F. Harper, and a young man named Billy Newman who plays the splendid juvenile role to perfection, and several others who will be recognized when they appear on the well-filled stage. Realistic scenery for the play is being built especially by four of the players, C. D. Goodwin, L. Fielding Howe, J. F. Sherron, Jr., and Jeanette G. Moore. The properties are being taken care of by Anna M. Goodwin, the costumes by Margery Loughlin and Mae Aiken, and the lighting effects by V. O. Krauskop.

Many distinguished patrons are expected in the audience. The dramatic critic, Arthur B. Waters, and his wife, who has spoken on the drama many times in Narberth, will attend, as will Judge George Corson, of Norristown, and as we have mentioned before, the Shuberts, of New York City and Phila-

Mulieres Thanked by Fire Company Head

Made Carnival Amazing Success, Says T. B. du Marais in Letter.

The thanks and appreciation of the Narberth Fire Company is extended to the Mulieres who put over the recent carnival for the benefit of the company by its president, Tristan B. du Marais, in a letter to the editor this week.

Mr. du Marais' letter follows:
To the Editor of Our Town:
At the last regular meeting of the Narberth Fire Company a resolution was passed to extend to the members of the Mulieres a full-hearted vote of thanks for their united efforts which were crowned with such amazing success during the two days of the carnival given under their auspices on the 23d and 24th of last month, the net delphia. Now, can't you imagine that it is going to be almost as interesting to peer around the audience and take note of the celebrities as it is to follow the thrilling mystery play which will be behind the footlights? Surely, it's a big night in our town!

Between the acts, at some point, will be announced the results of the Name Contest which the club has been sponsoring, in order to find a permanent and suitable name for its organization. To the victor, if he be in the audience, will be presented a prize of $10.00; if he is not among those attending, the prize will be reduced to $5.00 and mailed him after the event.

Seek 1000 Members For Red Cross Here

Annual Enrollments Being Taken by Large Group of Workers.

AIDS LOCAL RELIEF

Fifty years ago, May, 1881, Clara Barton, the noted volunteer relief worker in the Civil War, originated and caused to be organized the Red Cross society. This volunteer work has continued throughout the fifty years for relief of distress through war or peace.

The annual enrollment time is now on and continues until Thanksgiving. It is open to everyone, and is for the purpose of renewing membership in the Red Cross organization. A portion of each fee received is kept in the home chapter for local needs, while such disasters as a Main Line explosion, drought, starvation or Mississippi flood draw upon that other part of the dollar which goes for national aid. Last year the Main Line enrolled 7000 members. A return of $5000 (over one-third of the money given) was expended in this territory in looking after the families of fifty ex-service men, the entire support of four child health centers, the salary of the Narberth Center's nurse and part of another nurse's salary. In thirteen years these centers have grown to an attendance of

Post's Service Award Presented to Dr. King

Education Theme at Legion's Annual Banquet on Wednesday.

HARMAN, LAIRD SPEAK

Men of Narberth—Legionnaires and guests, met Wednesday night for their annual banquet. A goodly attendance, an interesting group of speakers, and the awarding of the Legion certificate for distinguished service featured the dinner.

To Dr. LeRoy A. King, secretary of the Narberth School Board, went the annual award for "distinguished service to the Legion, the community, the state and the nation." Dr. King's outstanding work in the educational field, and his continuous service to Narberth, earned him the distinction.

The topic of education was carried through all the speeches, for the banquet was not given over to war memories. The subject of peace-time work in education and rehabilitation was discussed by Dr. James C. Miller, Professor of Educational Administration at Penn; Dr. Warren Powers Laird, Professor of Architecture and Dean of the University School of Fine Arts; Frank A. Schrepfer, Assistant Professor of Landscape Architecture in the same school; former Senator Fletcher W. Stites and football coach Harvey Harman an all-Penn program.

Dr. Miller spoke of "Safeguarding our internal frontier," pointing out the peace-time needs in education. He

Miss Merrill to Attend Girl Scout Meeting Tuesday

The Narberth Girl Scouts are holding meetings every Tuesday night during the winter evenings. There are now 21 members of the troop, Mrs. B. R. Crowell, of Ardmore, is the captain, Miss Marjorie Merrill, the Scout District Leader, will be at the next meeting, Tuesday, November 17. The troop sent a plant to Miss Dorothy Rouse, who was injured recently. The patrol leaders are Jane Chillas, Mary Alice Krauskop and Jane Smedley. The troop would like to have some reliable person in Narberth to act as lieutenant.

Needlework Guild's Annual Meeting on Wednesday

The Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its Annual Meeting and Display of Garments on Wednesday, November 18, in the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church. The public is cordially invited to attend this exhibition and contributions are solicited.

The luncheon is at 12:30 and anyone desiring to attend should call Mrs. J. A. Caldwell, Narberth 3987, or Mrs. A. J. Bawden, Narberth 3911, for reservations.

There will be a program in the afternoon with two excellent speakers, J. H. Kre her, of Springfield, Ohio, and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer.

Speaks on World Court

Lawrence M. C. Smith, attorney, chose The World Court as his topic at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Tuesday. He outlined the functions of the World Court and the League of Nations, pointing out that while the league is designed to settle policies, the World Court is active in specific disputes.

Both organizations operate through much the same machinery, he said. Since its creation in 1921 the World Court has handed down 16 decisions and has made 18 advisory statements.

Announcing a New Motor Car Lubrication

No more guesswork about the new Texaco Certified Lubrication announced by R. Roy Kessinger's Sunshine Service Station . . . The new Texaco CHEK - CHART, prepared with the aid of every automobile manufacturer in the industry, insures complete and scientifically correct lubrication for the entire chassis and motor of every American-built passenger car.

Every point on the car is charted in a book, and is referred to by the operator when your car goes on the grease rack, so that each point may be treated in order and none may be missed.

The charts show capacities of crankcase, transmission and differential. Even tire inflation pressure and the capacity of the cooling system are plainly indicated on them. So, as the life and service of a motor car depend on the care and thoroughness with which it is lubricated, we now have an Automotive Lubrication Encyclopedia which enables us to guarantee a lubrication job to be as complete and efficient as it would be done at the factory where the car was built.

The SUNSHINE SERVICE, you know, is on Montgomery Pike at Narberth Avenue. Phone Narberth 2229 and we'll gladly call for and deliver your car.

Haverford Avenue to Be Finished Wednesday

Nineteen heads of families who are residents of the Borough will be given employment through the Haverford and Windsor Avenues improvement, which is in accordance with the aim of the county in appropriating the fund.

All possible consideration is being given to the Haverford Avenue merchants, it was pointed out, by not closing off the street completely, and in permitting trucks to park in front of the stores while the reconstruction is going on. It will only be necessary to close off the street to all traffic for one or two days when the top dressing is being applied, according to Mr. Suplee.

It was announced by Mr. Wood that Hyman Ricklin, hardware store proprietor and owner of the property at the corner of Haverford and Essex Avenues, had generously donated a strip at that intersection, fifteen inches back from the corner, to the Borough. This will permit the rounding off of a congested and dangerous intersection.

A resolution was adopted at the meeting providing for the setting aside in the 1932 budget of the sum of $100 to be used in connection with the George Washington Bi-Centennial celebration by the American Legion in its Memorial Day program.

The building report showed that but two permits had been issued during the month of October. Seventeen inspections were made by the Building Inspector during the month and six operations, among them the reconstruction of the Narberth Public School building, were found to be completed.

Musical Program Will Feature Club Meeting

The next program at the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, which will be held in the Girl Scout wing of the Community Building on Tuesday afternoon, promises to be an outstanding event. It will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Drennan, chairman of music. The Dorothy Johnstone Baseler Trio will give a number of selections. Mrs. Baseler is a harpist of note and is considered the outstanding performer on that instrument in this part of the country.

The sub-junior department of the club will hold a cake and candy sale at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Hope Le Barr Roberts, well-known lecturer on Current Events, will be the speaker on December 1. Another interesting club event in December will be the Christmas party on December 15.

The bridge luncheon at the Community House on Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the health center was a very successful and enjoyable affair. The party was in charge of the American Homes, the Welfare and Civic Departments. Mrs. W. J. Loughlin, Mrs. J. R. Aiken and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer were in charge.

Mrs. Mueller Re-elected President of Mulieres

The Mulieres of the Narberth Fire Company held their regular monthly meeting in Elm Hall on Monday afternoon when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller; first vice president, Mrs. Charles E. Harnden; second vice president, Mrs. Frank X. Purcell; secretary, Mrs. Charles Viguers, Jr.; and treasurer, Mrs. Lloyd B. Edgerton. Those elected to the board of directors are Mrs. William M. Sibley, Mrs. Albert Fredericks, Mrs. E. C. Griswold and Mrs. C. C. Tyson.

Elected to the honorary board were Mrs. A. Perry Redifer, Mrs. Augustus J. Loos, Miss Emma Zentmayer and Mrs. C. Warner.

Plans were made to have an open house on Christmas Day.

Media Schools Principal at P. T. A. Meeting Monday

Education Week, November 9-16, will be observed at the November meeting of the Narberth Parent-Teachers' Association to be held in the auditorium of the new school building on Monday evening, the 16th, at 8 o'clock.

William H. Micheals, Principal of the Media Schools, will talk on "The Wise Use of Leisure." The awards of certificates and prizes to successful members of the Vacation Reading Club will be made by Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, a member of the board of the Narberth Library. As the 13th of November is the birthday of Robert Louis Stevenson, a reading from one of his interesting books will be given by Mrs. H. I. McConnell. The Mothers' Chorus under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Drennan, will sing.

"Mothers' Millions," a three star picture, featuring May Robson, will be shown at the Narberth Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, November 18th and 19th, as a benefit performance for the Parent-Teacher Association. The money derived from the sale of tickets will be applied to the purchase of a moving picture machine for the school.

All parents in Narberth, whether members of the association or not, are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Rummage Sale on 21st

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Narberth M. E. Church will hold a rummage sale at No. 52 W. Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, on Saturday, November 21st. Anyone having old clothing, old rugs, old articles of any description that they wish to dispose of, please bring them to the Narberth M. E. Church any time before Friday, November 20, where they will be taken care of by the janitor or to notify one of the committee, Mrs. Samuel MacAdams, Mrs. E. Guy Steinfeld, Mrs. W. J. Bailey, Mrs. Helen Lentz Russell or Mrs. Ralph Cook.

Alumnae Meet

The Philadelphia Alumnae of the Pennsylvania College for Women held a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Williamson, 337 Bala Avenue, Cynwyd, on Thursday. Miss Mary Bronson read excerpts from her book, "Mary Stuart." Mrs. John Martin, of Lantwyn Lane, Narberth, was co-hostess with Mrs. Williamson.

Library to Participate in Children's Book Week

Beginning Monday afternoon of next week and continuing through Saturday night, the library will again participate in the nationwide observance of Children's Book Week. It is a matter of special gratification to the local library that the central theme of this year's observance is one that it has been emphasizing for several years in its work with children, especially in its vacation travel club, namely, "international friendship through children's reading."

This year the plan of the sponsors of Children's Book Week is to make the theme nationwide, with "Round the World Book Fairs" in libraries and book shops. Stores will display in their windows stories of children in other lands, travel books, biographies, and all books that increase a child's knowledge of the past and of the modern world.

The local library will as usual display more than one hundred new books which have been purchased for this purpose, books for girls and for boys, books of mystery and adventure, books of travel and of history; in fact, books of varied interest for all ages of children. They will be on display all the week and will not be distributed until the following week. Parents and friends of little children will find it a good opportunity also for making selections for Christmas gifts.

Begin Ticket Distribution for St. Margaret's Minstrels

Distribution started this week of tickets for the two local performances of St. Margaret's Minstrels on December 1 and 2, after which the troupe will show at the Penn A. C. on Friday, December 4.

This is the seventh presentation of the organization, which is composed altogether of Narberth men, none of them claiming any histrionic heritage, but all of them possessing a willingness to have themselves welded into a co-ordinate corps which is capable of giving a praiseworthy performance.

This year's cast contains all the men who have been in the work since the beginning, excepting those who have moved from the community, and the latter includes B. A. Yungbluth, now president of the Buffalo Traction Company, who took his turn in the circle for two years.

On the ends for "An Uproar in Pinafore," the title of this year's production, will be Barton, Case, Chain, Coneen, Keegan and Kerigan, except it should be noted that Chain won't sing, despite the seething demand on the part of disorderly persons who apparently have no reluctance in inciting to riot, bedlam and pandemonium.

As in previous years, William J. Lawrence, long with Dumont's, will provide the musical and dramatic direction.

Oyster Supper Friday at Methodist Church

A genuine fresh-fried oyster supper with all the incidentals will be given by the Official Board of the Narberth M. E. Church in the parish hall of the church on Friday evening, November 20, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Provision will be made for those not desiring oysters.

The price is very low and includes the dessert. The menu will comprise food of choice quality, will be tastily prepared and promptly served. You will surely want to join in this delightful social occasion.

D. A. R. Meets Monday

The Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Addie K. Hewitt, 116 Essex Avenue, on Monday afternoon. Reports from the thirty-sixth Pennsylvania State Conference will be read.

The Editor's Column

The condition of Haverford Avenue this week may remind some of the war veterans in town of shell holes, trenches, etc., but George Suplee assures us that the street will be finished by the middle of next week. And speaking of Haverford Avenue, the action of Mr. Ricklin in donating some of his property at the corner of Essex to the Borough is a public-spirited step which he is to be congratulated upon. It will ease traffic congestion at that corner considerably.

Whether the Legion Room in the Community Building will be used again as the voting headquarters in the second district remains to be seen. While it affords more elbow room to voters and comfort to the election clerks, the old location at 104 Essex was more central and accessible to the station. Mr. McAuliffe, the Judge of Elections for that District, will welcome expressions of opinion from citizens on the respective sites.

A letter was received by the Borough Council recently from a resident complaining about the noise made by the Fire apparatus in giving the youngsters rides at the recent carnival. We pass along the suggestion which has been made that if every resident of the Narberth Fire District took out a contributing membership in the Fire Company ($3), there would be no need for carnivals to raise funds.

Said a citizen in a letter congratulating a Councilman upon his reelection, "I think the residents of our Borough are very fortunate in having the type of men to represent them which at present are serving as Councilmen." But after this back patting, he got down to brass tacks, viz.: "I would appreciate it if you would call to their attention the height of the hedges at certain street intersections in the Borough. I firmly believe that if they would pass an ordinance that no hedge should be higher than two feet at any street intersection, it would eliminate many accidents and save loss of life."

This is a very sensible view of the matter, but unfortunately it is not clear at the present time whether or not Council has the authority to pass such an ordinance. The Borough of Swarthmore is involved in a legal tangle now on this matter and until some decision is handed down which will clarify the situation, it is doubtful if any action will be taken.

The Red Cross roll call, the annual enrollment campaign, opened on Armistice Day with a large number of women workers canvassing the Borough. A total of at least 1000 members is hoped for and if the energy being shown by the workers is any criterion, they will be obtained. Much of the money received from memberships is spent locally, in maintaining the Child Health Centers and for local relief work, so you will be helping your own community by joining or renewing your membership.

The attendance at the first Community service of the season at the Narberth Theatre last Sunday evening was not all that might be desired. Perhaps it was due to insufficient publicity as arrangements were unavoidably delayed and the name of the speaker was not available when Our Town went to press last week. However, it is certain that the affairs will go along smoothly and will prove as popular as last year's series.

We note that the Spectator gets in a little propaganda this week for an Essex Avenue tunnel, a pet project with some of our residents. The thing is undoubtedly desirable, but as the phrase goes, "what will we use for money?" It would be impossible to finance the job without going to the polls and asking the citizens' approval of a bond issue. And who would vote for a twenty-five or fifty-thousand-dollar bond issue in these times? An Essex Avenue tunnel does not seem like a feasible project at present but it should be put down in red ink on the Borough Plan to be put through at a more auspicious time.

If our memory is correct, the play "Bilked" to be given at Elm Hall tonight is its premiere performance, which may account for the expected presence of Theatrical Impresario Shubert in the audience. But more important, locally, at least, it marks the debut of a new and desirable dramatic organization in the Borough. It is groups such as this that auger well for the future of the theatre in this country.

The Spectator

Comments on Borough relief work, praises a public-spirited citizen and pleads for support of the local relief agencies.

Throughout the land communities of all sizes and degrees are finding public work to do, some of it essential and some which might have been delayed until the need for it becomes more pressing. In Narberth we see Haverford Avenue being repaved and in the next week or so other thoroughfares will be tapped and tilled as the borough proceeds to spend between six and seven thousand dollars on improvements hereabouts.

It is too bad we are not more flush in funds, because at this time the county is willing to match each of our dollars with one of its own, up to a maximum of $15,000, with the understanding that the work must be completed by the first of the year. It is also part of the set-up that the labor employed shall be residents of the political division which receives the lift from Norristown, an agreement which is strictly observed here in the selection of the score of men who are carrying on the present jobs.

It is evident the Council was diffident about mortgaging next year's income to secure a larger allotment of county aid, and, as it was, we imagine our solons had to chisel pretty closely to raise the town's part of the current fund, but if the same opportunity does exist next year some thought might be given to a comprehensive plan which would at last bring into existence an Essex Avenue tunnel and a new station. The railroad would have to cough up, of course, but it would seem the special circumstances would provide a bargain basis that shall prove irresistible to all concerned. Let us hope it can be done.

Give three cheers and one cheer more for Hyman Ricklin, who contributes to the general welfare and public safety by yielding free-gratis-without-charge a strip of sidewalk which averages a foot in depth over an area of about 25 feet, the frontage of his own store and also that of the Essex and Haverford corner, occupied by Freeman's and owned by Ricklin. Taking off this slice will help the traffic at this busy intersection a very great deal and henceforth and forever our friend Hyman shall be privileged to wear the symbol of our most distinguished Order, which is that of Bounteous Benefactor. Benedictions on his Yiddisher kopf und herz.

To provide work now is an obligation on all those who can in any way manage it and the borough is justified in stretching its purse to afford livelihood to as many of our own people as possible. In the history of all American depressions unemployment on a severe scale continues for months after general conditions start to improve. This winter will be no exception despite the impressive signs that business is on the mend. The Presidential campaign will not check the moderate gains which are now starting. As a matter of proven fact, national election years average better than normal trade years, notwithstanding the general opinion to the contrary. Plenty of work is on its way, but something very definite must be done as we await its arrival.

Keen distress abounds all about us and generous souls should be more than usually sensitive to the situation. If we all gave as the very poor give out of their blessed poverty there would be no real problem. The influence of the stuffed shirt, begetting social shams which, almost invariably, tend to upset solid spiritual and intellectual factors, has diminished the old robust stamina of the American middle class and made them fear exceedingly for their own existence. This adversity may skin our hides, but if it helps to restore some of the precious things we have lost, if it aids in achieving a refreshing political and philosophical maturity, then praise be to it and

Plan Men's Supper at All Saints Church November 19

Formation of an All Saints Church community club, for men only, is expected to result from a supper to be held at the church, Montgomery Pike facing Wynnewood Road, Wynnewood, 7 P. M. Thursday, November 19. Non-sectarian, the club is sponsored by Robert Fellows Wood, Fred Walzer and William W. Heindel.

All men on the Main Line are invited to attend the supper, which, according to an announcement made this week, will be "Dutch"; a charge of a dollar will be made. The Women's Auxiliary of All Saints is making plans for an exceptional meal. Mr. Wood, who is advertising manager of the Autocar Company, Ardmore, and a member of Narberth's Borough Council, will preside.

More fun! . . . Don't miss the Marx Brothers next week-end at the Egyptian Theatre!—(Advt.)

Former Narberth Druggist Passes Away at Chester

Funeral services were held last Thursday for William F. Fiedler, for several years a druggist in Narberth before the war, who died November 1 at the age of 49. His death was caused suddenly by heart attack at his drug store in Chester.

In Narberth Mr. Fiedler operated the drug store at the station corner now occupied by J. Paul Shea for about five years prior to 1915.

Mr. Fiedler's home was at 5308 Wil-lows Avenue, West Philadelphia. He is survived by his widow, Catherine L. Fiedler; a son Albert, 20; five brothers and three sisters.

many alleluias.

In our own vicinity men and women of formerly substantial position are on starvation's edge because they are unable to help themselves and bereft as to where to turn. Is there no succor, no sympathy, for such people, caught in the greatest maelstrom of our industrial civilization, terribly vicious in its effects on well-ordered lives and families? They need cheer, courage and cash, these our neighbors, and, in the accountability of Christian stewardship, they should have these things even from those who feel they are sufficiently hard pressed with their own perturbed affairs.

Co-operation with neighborhood relief facilities brightens the corner where you are and makes our giving less of an abstract thing.

At the township office in Ardmore, Pete Hess, in co-operation with the Community Weekly Papers of the Main Line, is organizing a coal fund. Up to last week he had received the grand sum of $5. Narberth can draw on the supply and Narberth ought to help. Last year they distributed hundreds of tons. They will need more this year. Remittances should be made payable to Peter C. Hess, Coal Fund Treasurer, Ardmore.

The Federation of Churches is always doing yeoman work and can make excellent use of donations. This is probably the most important relief organization of the Protestant churches along the Main Line. Send them a check.

St. Margaret's Catholic Church has a never-ceasing call on its charity funds and a ladies' guild there is ever alert for its share of works of mercy. Money sent in that direction will be disbursed by a pastor with a great heart for the poor, as the entire community well knows.

It also ought to be recorded that Narberth citizens in need have a call on county funds for groceries of certain kinds, up to a maximum value of $21 to $28 per month. All that is necessary is a report of the actual facts, which shall be quickly checked by a county official, and help provided if the circumstances warrant it. There is no publicity and no political influence is needed. If it is claimed that a "pull" is required, let us know, as such a pretense should be scotched instantaneously.

And please don't forget, Mr. Man with jobs to give out, that we have many men and women in Narberth who are yearning for them and that charity is particularly magnanimous when it starts at home.

These ladies followed their task with wonderful ability, and such energetic work for a worthy cause shows again that the community of our Borough is to be congratulated for its generous response on this occasion.

The following list of ladies who participated in this entertainment is a most representative one, and it is due to their thorough co-operation with one another that the affair was such a success:

Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, Mrs. Charles Viguers, Jr., Mrs. William Sibley, Mrs. E. S. Haws, Miss Flora F. Kurzenknabe, Mrs. J. J. Findeisen, Mrs. Albert Fredericks, Mrs. A. J. Bawden, Mrs. C. C. As for the active members of the fire company our fire fighters covered themselves with glory; they were here, there and everywhere, attended to the erection of booths, operated the radio and other games, drove the kiddies in the fire apparatus and attended to various other duties which were assigned them, but true to their proverbial gallantry and modesty, they would not care to have their names appear in this column, but desire the Mulieres to know how glad and proud they were to assist them.

The contribution of Our Town's publicity for this event is also greatly appreciated, and we beg to express our thanks to all who have helped this worthy cause.

Harvey D. Narrigan, of Narberth, in a will written November 2, the day before he died, left the bulk of his $100,000 estate to his wife, Caroline, and his two sons, Clifford Narrigan, of Narberth, and Harvey Narrigan, of Millbourne. The sons are named executors of the will.

Ada E. Woerst, of Narberth, left an estate of $3700, which is divided as follows: $1000 to a grandson, Reginald Dozer, and $200 each to Corrine Dozer and Lotta B. Griffiths, daughters, and Elizabeth and Mildred Dozer, granddaughters. The remainder is to be divided equally among the five heirs.

Gibson Bell Speaker at Community Service

The Rev. Gibson Bell, the rector of All Saints Church, Wynnewood, and Headmaster of Montgomery School, delivered the principal address at the Armistice Day Community Service held in the Narberth Theatre last Sunday, at 7:45 P. M. A group of members of Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, with their National and Post colors, attended the service in a body. Following the singing of "America" by the congregation, the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, the Chaplain of the Narberth American Legion Post, delivered the invocation; and the Rev. Cletus Senft, of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Narberth, read the scripture selection. Henry G. Sparks, of Narberth, then sang a tenor solo. After one minute of silent tribute to those who died in the war, Rev. Samuel MacAdams, of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered a fervent prayer. A collection was taken up for the benefit of the Welfare Fund of Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion. The amount received was forty-two dollars and eighty-six cents.

The American Legion Welfare Fund is used in Narberth to give assistance in cases of extreme necessity to the wives, widows and young children of war veterans. As the fund depends entirely on voluntary contributions, and as the members of the Legion have never conducted a "drive" or a house-to-house canvass in order to raise money for this worthy cause, the fund has always been too small to help more than a few of the most urgent cases, and only those within the limits of the Borough of Narberth. Not one cent is spent for administration expenses or clerical work. The work of investigating the various cases is done by the Chairman of the American Legion Welfare Committee, Charles J. Clarke, who also collects worn clothing (in presentable condition) of children who have outgrown it, and distributes the clothing where it will be most appreciated by the children of war veterans. If YOU have children, look over their last year's clothes NOW—while you think of it—and make a pile of those which are too small to wear. Then pack them in a box (one of those empty cardboard boxes you have in your attic will do). Then call Mr. Clarke, Chairman of the Legion Welfare Committee, on the phone: Cynwyd 1880. He will be glad to call at your house for the clothing, and you may be sure it will be appreciated.

Prosperity gains friends, and adversity tries them.

Camels Continue Streak, Shutting Out Boosters

The Camels continued their winning streak in the Narberth Interchurch Bowling League by defeating the Boosters three games last Friday. They will have the first-half championship "in the bag" unless they are stopped pretty soon. This evening they tackle the Lions.

Supporters Thanked by Councilman Bates

Re-elected Councilman Grateful to Those Who Worked in His Behalf.

OUTLINES ZONING LAW

In a statement made this week, Clifford W. Bates expressed his thanks to the voters of the Borough in re-electing him to Council and outlined the situation regarding the action of Council on the Zoning Ordinance.

Mr. Bates' statement follows: "To the voters of the Borough of Narberth:

"I wish to thank the people of Narberth for the confidence shown in me by my recent re-election to the Borough Council, and I particularly want to express my appreciation to those who worked so successfully on my behalf. I feel that my re-election, in the face of the handicap of having lost in the Republican primary, was a particular indication of approval of the stand which I have taken on various matters relating to the welfare of the Borough.

"Although my opponent disclaimed that the recent action of Council in refusing to modify the lines of the business districts of the Borough at the present time was an issue in the recent election, I feel that the result of this election was very largely an expression of approval of this action by the residents of the Borough and a similar opinion has been expressed by several other members of Council.

"In this connection a brief statement regarding the recent action of Council regarding the Zoning Ordinance may be in order. As Chairman of the Ordinance and Law Committee, it was my duty to preside at the public hearings held on this matter and to draft the new ordinance, although I would greatly have preferred not to do this, since my own property would have been affected unfavorably by one of the proposed changes. During the entire course of the proceedings leading up to the final action of Council, every member of Council (including myself, in spite of my personal feeling) maintained an open mind on the matter and it was not until a Committee meeting, held shortly before the Council meeting at which final action was to be taken, that it became evident to the surprise of every one that practically every member of Council was of the opinion that the arguments advanced in favor of the change were insufficient to warrant the modification of either of the business districts at the present time. Previously, each of us had supposed that a majority favored the modification, and when the real sentiments were ascertained it became necessary to redraft the ordinance, since it was highly desirable to retain some general amendments to the original Zoning Ordinance which had been introduced into the new ordinance for the purpose of strengthening it.

"While this matter is considered to be settled for the present, it is very possible that at some time in the future conditions will have so changed that some modification of the business districts will be desirable. None of the members of Council wishes to stand in the way of the Borough's progress and if, at some future time when business expansion demands a greater accommodation, such a modification should seem to be for the best interests of the Borough as a whole, Council may be depended upon to take suitable action. "Again thanking those who voted for me and those who worked for my re-election, I wish to assure the residents of Narberth that I shall continue to endeavor to act for the best interests of the Borough."

divided this "frontier" into three parts—childhood, vocation and thought.

Of the problems of childhood he told of the annual loss of 200,000 children before the age of five, and the death of 25,000 mothers. "The United States stands sixth in freedom from child mortality and sixteenth in freedom from maternal deaths," he said.

In the second frontier—that of vocation, he pointed out the lack of knowledge of the actual needs of the country in various vocations, and of the consequent education of youth for jobs already over-manned. "School is a training camp," he said "in which a term of 8 years is compulsory, and in which 12, 16, 20 or more years must be spent to prepare for higher positions."

"The frontier of thought requires the courage to pioneer by giving up what has been in favor of what is to be. We must preserve our willingness to take a risk."

Dr. Laird discussed the broader aspects of education and pointed out the opportunities for training in other than scholastic subjects. The mental, social and moral training was defined in quotations from other great educators—Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard; Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia, and Felix Schelling, of Penn.

"An awakened intellectual curiosity is the greatest gift of a successful college education," he concluded.

Mr. Stites reviewed the other talks and reminded the audience of the importance of the United States in present world problems. He pointed to the visits of Mr. MacDonald, Laval and Grandi to Washington.

Mr. Harman, in an amusing and vigorous talk, showed the successful workings of the Gates plan at Penn. "College spirit is now at the highest pitch at Penn I have ever seen," he said.

"We have taken the football team out of the professional class and given it back to the student body," he said, and went on to praise the work of the intra-mural teams and the wider participation in athletics of the student body as a whole.

Mr. Schrepfer defended the Legion's demands for recognition of the problems of men disabled by war. He pointed to the growth of the Legion to a membership of over one million.

"The Legion is not raiding the treasury," he said. "We must recognize that there are no adequate facilities to care for the multiplying number of men disabled by the war. By 1934 the peak of physical disability cases should be reached, but the peak of mental and nervous cases will not be reached until 1945. Men in Pennsylvania with mental troubles gained during the war are in jails because there are not adequate hospital facilities."

4000 children.

Other lines of regular work carried on by the Red Cross are the first aid and life saving institutes, camp counselors, beach guards, etc. The volunteer work of making garments, surgical dressings, writing of Braille (finger reading for the blind), etc., also continues.

Yet, without public support, the Red Cross could not function. Narberth's aim is for 1000 members this year as a golden anniversary investment in these projects. As this paper goes to press one of the Narberth solicitors has successfully completed her territory with larger returns than last year. The volunteer solicitors for Narberth are as follows:

On the north side: Wynnewood Avenue, by Mrs. H. C. Fenno; Shady Lane, Wyndale Avenue and Brynwood Manor, by Misses Edith and Kathryn Patton; Beechwood and Berkeley Roads, Mrs. A. D. Vaudling; Upper Dudley Avenue, Mrs. A. S. Digby; Homewood and Upper Sabine, Mrs. R. C. Kennedy; Sabine, Upper Essex and part of Montgomery, by Miss Faith McAuliffe; Wynnewood Court and part of Montgomery, Mrs. Frank X. Purcell; Essex Avenue, Mrs. E. Haws and Mrs. Wilson; Dudley Avenue, Mrs. Kelm and Mrs. Evans; Upper Grayling, Miss Alberta Miller; Wayne Avenue, Mrs. Wallis Barleau; portion of Montgomery, Mrs. Lafore; Forest Avenue, Miss Emma Miller; Narberth Avenue, Mrs. H. C. Cotter; Meeting House Lane and Williams Avenue, Mrs. Charles Hamner; Lantwyn Lane, Shirley Road and north side of Haverford Avenue, Miss Alberta Davis; Hampden Avenue, Mrs. Harry Mosteller; portion of Montgomery, Mrs. P. D. Benner; Iona Avenue, Mrs. R. M. Staley. The blocks south of Windsor Avenue, including Conway Dudley and Essex and Windsor Avenues are covered by the sub-junior department of the Woman's Club. They are Miss Kay Wheeler, Ray Lukens, Ruth Hollar, Celia Link, Kay Ruby, Alice Ruby, Jane Nash, Muriel White, Betty Stratton, Winnie James, Kitty Miller and Treva Smith. On the south side: Elmwood Avenue, Miss Lois Caldwell; Woodside and Maple Avenues, Mrs. Floyd Edgerton and Miss Betty Needham; Chestnut Avenue, Mrs. George Riddal and Mrs. Harry Chalfant; Merion Avenue, Miss Jule Pittipoldi and Mrs. Michael Talone; Rockland Avenue, Mrs. Starn; Grove Place, Mrs. R. Mrs. Mary Kent is chairman or lieutenant for the central part of the north side. The other general divisions were printed in a previous issue of this paper.

Mrs. Scott to Speak at Mission Society Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, November 19, at 2:30 P. M. in the church parlor.

The speaker for the day will be Mrs. Charles Ernest Scott, of China, and Mrs. J. H. McClay will have charge of the devotions.

This promises to be a very wonderful meeting and all women of the church are cordially invited to share it. Preceding the meeting there will be a half hour of prayer. It is earnestly hoped that many will join this prayer circle in the session room at 2 P. M.
